PGY-1

- Required rotations include internal medicine, inpatient family practice, critical care, pediatrics, infectious disease, progressive care with nephrology and cardiology emphasis, pharmacy practice management (longitudinal)
- Elective rotations include neonatal intensive care, oncology, surgery, infusion center, clinical or operations management

PGY-2

- Required rotations include inpatient adult, outpatient adult, pediatric oncology
- Elective rotations include palliative care, infectious disease, nutrition, genetic counseling, private practice, radiation oncology, bone marrow transplant

Residents are offered excellent benefits, a $2,500 sign-on bonus, and a competitive stipend:

PGY-1 $48,318 per year

PGY-2 $52,665 per year

Anchorage offers a unique blend of cultural and recreational opportunities and is surrounded by splendid scenery.

If you are attending the ASHP Midyear meeting, please stop and see us at the Residency Showcase, or contact us through the CareerPharm or Personnel Placement (PPS) there. You may make an appointment in advance via CareerPharm or by contacting Julie Fischer (Julie.Fischer@Providence.org). Appointments may be made at the meeting at the Providence Health and Services table at PPS, but slots fill quickly.

Please complete an application on our website www.providence.org/alaska. The Residency application is usually posted on the Providence website in December. In addition, we will be using PhORCAS for the application process - see www.ashp.org/phorcas. Submit a letter stating why you are interested in doing a residency, a CV and all of your college transcripts (both pre-pharmacy and pharmacy). Three references are required via the Standardized Reference Form Available In Phorcas.

Application deadlines:

PGY-1: December 28, 2015

PGY-2: January 3, 2016

Special Requirements in Addition to Standard Requirements in Phorcas: The Narrative Comments section on Standardized Reference Form is NOT optional and must be completed by the person writing the reference. If you have worked in a hospital or community pharmacy, please include a minimum of one reference from your supervisor at that institution. If you have not, but have served in a role related to health care or science please include a reference from that respective supervisor. Also include one reference from an acute care clinical rotation preceptor or another rotation if you have not had an acute care rotation yet.

For on-track resident applicants (starting in July for PGY-1) we participate in the ASHP matching program. The ASHP website has information regarding the process (www.ashp.com). Our Residency Matching Program Code numbers are:

PGY-2: 500660

A brief presentation (20 minutes plus 10 minutes of Q&A) on a subject of your choice is required during your interview. We interview 12 applicants for the PGY-1 program and 6 applicants for the PGY-2 program at PAMC each year.
